

Puerto Rico Turns Down Statehood

By R. GREGORY NOKES
SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Supporters of commonwealth government in Puerto Rico today had the vote of confidence they wanted from island voters, but their next move wasn't clear.

In a victory statement Sunday night, former Gov. Luis Munoz Marin said there were no immediate plans to request any additional powers from the U.S. Congress.

Elated, Munoz hailed the outcome as proof that Puerto Ricans support commonwealth "as the only political form that is fully adapted to the needs of Puerto Rico."

Commonwealth received 425,081 votes, 60.5 per cent of the total; statehood received 273,315 votes, or 38.9 per cent, and independence received 4,205, six-tenths of 1 per cent.

Most independence groups boycotted the plebiscite.

Pre-election forecasts had said commonwealth would need at least 60 per cent for a clear-cut victory.

The victory was seen as a personal triumph for Munoz, 69, four-time governor of the island and chief architect of the commonwealth link with the United States in 1952.

The four cornerstones of commonwealth, according to Munoz, are common citizenship, common defense, common currency and a common market.

Munoz came out of semiretirement to lead a vigorous campaign for commonwealth. He spoke in virtually every town and hamlet on the island.

In urging the plebiscite last year, a special advisory committee recommended naming a joint U.S.—Puerto Rican commission to study ways to implement the voters' mandate. It appeared that might be the next step.

For you were called to freedom, brethren; only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love by servants of one another.—Galatians 5:13.

Sonic Boom Hits London

LONDON (AP) — Soprano Joan Sutherland had an unexpected accompaniment when she recorded an aria in London. Midway through her role in Donizetti's "Daughter of the Regiment," there was a loud thump.

"We thought someone had banged a door," said recording supervisor Chris Hayburn. It turned out to be London's first sonic boom test.

"When we played it back, there was the boom completely wrecking the aria," he said.

Wednesday the Decca Recording Co. said it might ask the Ministry of Technology for compensation. Rayburn reckoned the cost of rerecording the aria at about $280.

trail, which meanders for about 500 yards southward from the house. The trail ends at a reconstruction of a 19th Century log house that once belonged to S. E. "Big Sam" Faubus, a distant relative.

The trail has dozens of specimens of the sarvis, black gum, redbud and other decorative trees native to the Ozark Mountains.

The view from the house extends to the mountain range west of Huntsville and Saturday afternoon visitors were treated to the sight of a storm blowing across the valley. From the sun-deck they watched sheets of rain obscure Huntsville for several minutes until the rain reached the mountainside and sent them scurrying inside.

Architect E. Fay Jones of Fayetteville designed the house to blend with its surroundings, and it is not conspicuous, despite its size. It is 214 feet long and ranges from 32 to 64 feet wide.

It has 10 rooms, 7,300 square feet under roof and the houses of many of those who voted Faubus into office for six terms would fit into the master bedroom.

The shingle-roofed building is low, rising straight from bedrock, and the stone and mahogany of which it is built make it seem more an extension of the mountain rather than an intrusion on its natural beauty.

All of the floors are stone, but gold carpets cover the rock in areas where the living will be done.

Faubus' study is furnished with the desk and chair he used at the capitol for 12 years. Almost all of the rest of the furniture is built in — the beds, chairs, sofas, even the breakfast table.

Mrs. Faubus said she resisted the built-in concept but finally yielded.

"About all that's here that really belongs to me is my collection of art glass," she said. The glass — dozens of fragile, colorful pieces — is displayed in built-in, lighted glass cases in the dining room.

Mrs. Faubus did not give in to Jones on the kitchen. He designed it without windows. She insisted on outside light and now bemoans the loss of cabinets which the windows replaced.

The lighting, all indirect, is a feature of the house. "It's a different house at night," said Farrell Faubus, the governor's son. "The lights soften everything, even the stone."

Young Faubus recently moved his law practice from Little Rock to Huntsville. He lives in a modest house down the hill from his father's.

The Faubuses did not intend, when they planned the house, to have a tourist attraction, but the Republican Party, late in 1965, made the house a political "cause celebre" by questioning how a one-time poor boy could afford a mansion when his salary as governor was only $10,000 a year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost 1,000 Negroes at the Black Power conference in Newark, N.J., some of them in African-type clothing, earrings and sandals, wound up going beyond the kind of white prejudice which has made them bitter.

They adopted a series of resolutions setting up their own brand of antiwhite prejudice as a way of life. They even approved religious bigotry. Christianity was called a white religion.

And one resolution said: "Every black church and all religious institutions that do not join the black revolution shall be boycotted, ostracized, criticized, publicized and rejected by the black community."

The delegates called for a study of the possibility of splitting the United States into two nations—one white, one black. The basic tone of the conference was separatist.

But there was a huge fallacy in this, which the delegates didn't face up to.

The conference was held to see if Negroes of varying views could decide what "Black Power" meant and how it could be put into action. The words were first used by Stokely Carmichael in 1966 in Mississippi.

But he wasn't any help to the conference in explaining what he meant by the phrase in the first place. He never has exactly explained it. And while the conference struggled over it he was in England preaching the "Black Power" gospel.

One British newspaper, the London Daily Sketch, called on the government to prosecute or deport him. The paper quoted him as telling an audience in England: "It is time to let the white know we are going to take over. If they don't like it, we will stamp them out—using violence and other means necessary."

Not all Negro organizations—for example, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People—were officially represented at the conference.

Only a week ago at its national convention the NAACP condemned the Newark riots—although blaming the city administration for not doing enough to meet the "grave social ills of the Negro community"—and called upon all "law-abiding citizens of both races to act promptly and sternly to put down such violence."

Own Brand of Prejudice Is Set Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost 1,000 Negroes at the Black Power conference in Newark, N.J., some of them in African-type clothing, earrings and sandals, wound up going beyond the kind of white prejudice which has made them bitter.

They adopted a series of resolutions setting up their own brand of antiwhite prejudice as a way of life. They even approved religious bigotry. Christianity was called a white religion.

And one resolution said: "Every black church and all religious institutions that do not join the black revolution shall be boycotted, ostracized, criticized, publicized and rejected by the black community."

The delegates called for a study of the possibility of splitting the United States into two nations—one white, one black. The basic tone of the conference was separatist.

But there was a huge fallacy in this, which the delegates didn't face up to.

The conference was held to see if Negroes of varying views could decide what "Black Power" meant and how it could be put into action. The words were first used by Stokely Carmichael in 1966 in Mississippi.

But he wasn't any help to the conference in explaining what he meant by the phrase in the first place. He never has exactly explained it. And while the conference struggled over it he was in England preaching the "Black Power" gospel.

One British newspaper, the London Daily Sketch, called on the government to prosecute or deport him. The paper quoted him as telling an audience in England: "It is time to let the white know we are going to take over. If they don't like it, we will stamp them out—using violence and other means necessary."

Not all Negro organizations—for example, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People—were officially represented at the conference.

Only a week ago at its national convention the NAACP condemned the Newark riots—although blaming the city administration for not doing enough to meet the "grave social ills of the Negro community"—and called upon all "law-abiding citizens of both races to act promptly and sternly to put down such violence."

The Newark conference adopted a resolution against the Army draft of Negroes for service in Vietnam and one calling for a guaranteed annual income, with a threat of "massive efforts to disrupt the economy" if it is not granted.

This is where the fallacy shows up. If, instead of an interdependent society, the Newark delegates want Negroes to have separate lives, how totally separate do they want them?

They could hardly want it total even though they want to explore the possibility of separate nations.

For instance: One resolution called for selective buying to force job upgrading and a nationwide "buy black" move.

But if whites adopted the same attitude to shut out Negroes—for instance, refusing to buy goods from Negro-owned businesses, or refusing to sit at the same table as Negroes—wouldn't that be a "massive effort to disrupt the economy" too?

It is not clear how the delegates intend to avoid this fallacy. But it is a fallacy nonetheless.

The fallacy is that the Negroes want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal. They want to be separate, but they also want to be equal.

DETROIT RIOT (From Page 1)

United States and Canada was closed. There were three dead, hundreds injured and more than 1,000 arrested.

In New York, Puerto Ricans in Spanish Harlem rampaged, bottle-bombing police, smashing windows and looting stores.

The Detroit riot apparently started after a police raid on a Negro after-hours drinking spot. The New York disturbance involved charges of police brutality and Mayor John V. Lindsay.

employ them—what would the delegates propose as an answer to it? They didn't go into that. They ignored that side of the problem.

Which means they're living in a dream world. The one they are in is an unjust nightmare to many Negroes, but it is the only real world and there the injustices have to be eliminated by the efforts of both sides working together.

Some of the other resolutions called for paramilitary training for Negro youths, a black university with subsidiary colleges in every city, and a refusal to accept birth-control programs on the ground they would be an attempt to exterminate Negroes.

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Customs and immigration officials today ordered the border sealed between Windsor and Detroit for "an indefinite period."

The decision to ban crossings between the two cities across the mile-wide Detroit River was announced moments before Detroit officials lifted a night-long curfew at 5:30 a.m.

More than 4,000 Windsor residents normally commute daily to Detroit to work. A smaller number of Detroit residents work here.

Many Windsor residents spent the night at the riverfront watching the riot.

86 Bodies Found After Turk 'Quake'

By AHMET BALAN
ADAPAZARI, Turkey (AP) — Turkish officials say 86 bodies have been recovered so far from the earthquake that rocked western and central Turkey Saturday. At least 110 were injured, half of them critically and officials said the death toll could run into the hundreds.

Workers dug through rubble in Adapazari and 456 other villages and towns, seeking persons in the ruins.

The U.S. Consulate in Istanbul checked American personnel and reported none killed or injured.

It was the second major earthquake to stun Turkey in less than a year's time. On Aug. 19, 1966, 2,500 persons were estimated to have died in quakes that rocked eastern Turkey.

Harlem's Portuguese in Uprising

By JOHN VINOCUR
NEW YORK (AP) — Puerto Ricans spilling from crowded tenements spread violence through Spanish Harlem again today, bottle-bombing police from streets and rooftops and looting stores from the edges of high-rent white neighborhoods to Negro Harlem.

More than 1,000 helmeted officers struggled for a second night to return calm to the Spanish-speaking area, cajoling crowds and moving them with their nightsticks at first, while avoiding arrests.

Then officers fired a volley of about 15 shots at a suspected sniper atop a building, and clearing street corners with their nightsticks flailing.

A police official reported that the block on Third Avenue between 107th and 108th Streets, usually throbbing with Latin music, was "destroyed" and that "the only thing we can do is stop the looting."

Three policemen and one fireman were injured.

The disturbance did not cross into the smart, virtually all-white upper East Side or central Harlem with its enormous Negro population, the scene of racial rioting in 1964.

After six hours of incidents, the glass-littered streets were nearly deserted and the major part of the extra force was withdrawn. Police still cruised streets and men were stationed at many intersections. They reported only four arrests.

The renewed violence in El Barrio, Spanish for "the neighborhood" came late Sunday night as Puerto Rican leaders specially trained for such disturbances. They were rushed back to the scene when the first bottles began to fly shortly after 11 p.m. Sunday.

As the disturbance worsened, bars were ordered closed and all of Manhattan's patrolmen held over for extended duty.

Siberia's Lake Baykal contains almost as much water as all the Great Lakes combined.

LUNCHEON HONORS MRS. KENNETH PADDIE

Mrs. Kenneth Paddie was honored with a luncheon on Tuesday, July 18 at the Heritage House given by Mrs. Sam W. Strong, Jr. A series of fine crystal epergnes filled with lovely, old-fashioned nosegays of mixed summer flowers and connected by trailing English Ivy graced the table.

Guests included Mrs. Fred Ellis, mother of the honoree, Mrs. Paddie was attired in pink linen with matching accessories. A gift of silver was presented to her by the hostesses.

OPEN HOUSE HONORS COUPLE

Dr. and Mrs. Sam W. Strong, Jr. honored Miss Jennifer Cox and her fiancé, Curtis Van Cheney, Jr., with an Open House on Wednesday evening, July 19. Among those present were members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

Punch and dainty party sandwiches were served in the dining room. Tall white tapers in crystal candelabra centered the table flanked by crystal epergnes filled with summer flowers and English Ivy.

The breakfast table held an arrangement of fruit in white pottery surrounded by hors d'oeuvres. Magnolias and Shasta daisies were used at vantage points in other rooms.

The honoree was lovely in a white and pale yellow tent dress. A gift of silver was presented to the couple by the hostess.

BUFFET SUPPER HONORS COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. George Robison and Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Ellis entertained with a buffet supper at the Hope Country Club on Thursday, July 20 for Miss Jennifer Cox and Curtis Van Cheney, Jr., out-of-town guests and members of the Cox-Cheney wedding party.

Miss Cox was attired in a cyclamen pink cocktail dress and had a corsage of a deeper tone. Mixed summer flowers and white candles were used on the serving table. About 50 guests enjoyed the evening.

TINA AMBASSADOR CLASS MEETS

The Tina Ambassador Sunday School class of the Garrett Memorial Baptist Church met at the Fair Park Tuesday, July 18, with Mrs. Ivy Mitchell and Mrs. Ted Purdie, the hostesses. President, Mrs. Y. C. Coleman, called on Mrs. Wade Warren to open the meeting.

Mrs. Clyde Johnson gave a very inspiring devotional on Love. Mrs. Ivy Mitchell closed the meeting with a prayer. A delicious pot luck picnic and fellowship was enjoyed by 22 members and 1 guest.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

Tall white cathedral tapers outlined the stately arched organ pipes in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church in Hope, Arkansas when Miss Jennifer Cox, daughter of Mrs. Donald Lamar Cox and the late Mr. Cox of Hope, was married to Mr. Curtis Van Cheney, Jr., son of Colonel (ret.) and Mrs. Curtis Van Cheney, Sr. of Reidsville, Georgia, at 8:00 o'clock in the evening of Saturday, July 22, 1967. The choir loft was massed with continuous arrangements of pink, white, and lavender and purple asters; white and yellow esther reeds; white and yellow majestics; Bells of Ireland; blue delphinium; white gypsophelia; purple, orchid and white sennawata statice; fuchsia daisies; blue cornflowers; golden wave, Carol Ambling, pink sensation, happiness, and Yuletide roses; red, pink and white carnations; with woodwardia, huckleberry, salal and leather leaf foliage. The soft glow in the church was further enhanced by votive candles nestled amid greenery all along the communion rail and burning pew candles in tall hurricane lamp stands.

The officiating minister at the impressive double ring ceremony was Reverend Everett M. Vinson, pastor of the Hope church. A program of favorite music was presented by Luther Hollamon, organist. He accompanied Dr. William R. Orton, Jr., baritone, of Fayetteville, Arkansas, cousin of the bride, who sang "The Love That Linketh Soul to Soul (Liszt), Oh Promise Me (De Koven), and L'Amour, Toujours, L'Amour (Friml) before the ceremony, and "Wedding Prayer" (Dunlap) as a benediction when the bridal couple knelt on a satin-covered prie dieu. John Cheney of Reidsville, Georgia, cousin of the groom, and Bruce Bernier McRae of Hope lighted the candles at the beginning of the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. R.L. Broach of Hope, and who entered on a white aisle cloth, wore an original gown of imported Guipure lace appliqued on English net, veiling a silhouette of silk peau de sole. The moulded cage gown was fashioned with a circle neck line edged with spray appliques of the lace. The sleeveless bodice was complemented by short white kid lace gloves. The slim controlled skirt, enhanced at the hemline with a banding of Swiss lace, was complemented by a semi-Watteau train extending to beyond chapel length. Her veil of white silk illusion fell in soft tiers to below her shoulders from a calot appliqued with the matching Guipure lace. She carried a cascade of Eucharis lilies and Ivy.

Miss Caroline Cox of Washington, D.C. was her sister's honor attendant, and she wore a gown of cornflower blue silk crepe veiled with white point d'esprit. The sleeveless cage gown was fashioned with a high ring neck line, accented by two small shaped bows at the back. The slim A-line skirt, banded in the blue crepe at the hemline, was floor length. She carried a bouquet of mixed seasonal flowers. Dressed identically to the honor attendant and carrying the self-same flowers were the bridesmaids, Miss Lamar Cox, sister of the bride, and Miss Jan Ellis, both of Hope, Mrs. Yancey Reynolds of Fayetteville, Arkansas, Mrs. Eric Bishop of Shreveport, Louisiana, and Miss Judy Burr of Salisbury, Maryland. Scattering rose petals immediately before the bride was Miss Dana Flowers of Hope, who was dressed in a white gown similar in design to those worn by the other attendants.

Entering the sanctuary with the bridegroom was Mr. Cheney, who served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Glen A. Cheney of Reidsville, Georgia, brother of the bridegroom, Cody L. Hayes of Marianna, Arkansas, Charles Beeler Brush, III, of Nashville, Tennessee, Herbert L. Oakes, Jr. of Lookout Mountain, Tennessee, and Hollis Lander of Albany, Georgia. Ushers were Martin V. Pool, Jr., Jerry Verhalen, Vincent Foster, Jr., and Dennis Paddie, all of Hope, and Louis R. Jelks, III, of Reidsville, Georgia.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mrs. Cox was hostess for a reception held at the Hope Country Club, where large urns of mixed flowers like those used at the church were seen throughout the club room. Mrs. Cox wore a formal dress of pink silk chiffon with voluminous skirt, trimmed in matching raw silk, complemented by a waist-length jacket closed at the back, with coordinated accessories, a self covered pill-box hat and white kid opera gloves. Receiving with her and the honored couple was Mrs. Cheney who also wore pink with matching accessories. Other members of the receiving line included those people in the wedding party. Mrs. Edward Schooley greeted the guests at the door, and Mrs. George Robinson introduced them to the receiving line. Mrs. William Rolan Orton, Sr. of Texarkana, Texas, great aunt of the bride, served the five-tiered lavishly decorated wedding cake, and Mrs. Fred Ellis poured the punch at the bride's table, which was covered with a white floor-length cloth and decorated with a brass container filled with mixed flowers. Other table appointments were crystal and lighted candles. Miss Nannie Jett of Texarkana, Texas presided at the bride's book, and Miss Mindy Glass of Texarkana, Texas, cousin of the bride, and Miss Laura Ann Robins of Conway, Arkansas distributed rose petal confetti.

Dispensing hospitality and assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. R. L. Broach, Mrs. Martin V. Pool, Sr., Mrs. Walter Verhalen, II, Mrs. Freeda R. Greenan, Mrs. Dorsey McRae, Jr., Mrs. Dick Watkins, Mrs. Earl O'Neal, Mrs. John B. Gardner, Jr., Mrs. Earl Lee Archer, Jr., Mrs. Don Usry, Mrs. John B. Lowe, Mrs. Frank Robins of Conway, Arkansas, and Mrs. Weldon Glass of Texarkana, Texas, cousin of the bride. Friends and classmates of the bride assisted in serving. Mr. Hollamon played the Thomas organ during the reception, and The Charles Muddford Trio of Texarkana provided music for the pleasure of the guests' dancing during the remainder of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schooley were hosts for a buffet supper served at the club, following the dancing, to honor members of the families, wedding party, and out-of-town guests.

For her wedding trip, Mrs. Cheney wore a green silk suit of tailored design, with a matching hat and accessories. The couple left for a honeymoon in Jamaica, after which they will be at home in Athens, Georgia, where Mr. Cheney will attend the University of Georgia school of law.

BRIDE ELECT, MISS JACQUELINE FIELDING HONORED WITH A TEA

A Gift Tea honoring Miss Jacqueline Fielding bride elect of Michael P. Allen was held at the home of the Roy Taylor's July 18, with Misses Carol Taylor and Rose Ann Williams as hostesses.

The guests were greeted at the door by Miss Carol Taylor and introduced to the receiving line which consisted of bride elect Jacqueline Fielding, her mother, Mrs. Jack Fielding, the groom elect's mother, Mrs. J.D. Allen, his sister, Pat Allen and the bride elect's grandmother, Mrs. E.S. Franklin.

The honoree wore a Trousseau dress of grey voile trimmed in white lace and pinned a gardenia corsage at her shoulder. The mothers and grandmothers were also presented white carnation corsages.

The guests were invited to the serving table which was covered in a floor length yellow taffeta cloth over laid with yellow net and centered with white daisies. Miss Rose Ann Williams presided at the punch bowl.

The guests were then invited into the den by Mrs. Roy Taylor where the many lovely and useful gifts were displayed. Mrs. Cue McAdams also helped to dispense hospitality.

Coming, Going

The Rev. Ed McDonald, Little Rock, Secretary of the Arkansas Baptist Foundation, was the guest speaker Sunday at the First Baptist Church and was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Thrash.

Clay Lehman and John Spragins left Saturday with Robbie Meadows of Texarkana, Jackie Bell of DeQueen, and Jim Morris of Nash, Tex., for Dallas and three days of Boy Scout Training in preparation for the 5th World Jamboree at Farragott State Park, Ida. The will visit Pike's Peak and Yellowstone Park en route, then will be at the camp August 1-9.

Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship at Camp Tanako this week are: Sara Schenck, Gary Don Jones, Steve Routon, Sandra McFarland, Tommy Edwards, Peggy Melver, Jack Turner, Paula McClellan, Beth Gilbert, and Tommy Frazier.

Mr. and Mrs. David Heath and three children, Cincinnati, O., returned home Friday after vacationing with the Haskell Jones family. They went to Six Flags Over Texas, to Houston and to New Orleans.

Mrs. C.P. Tolleson, Billy and Tommy Tolleson have come home after a three-week vacation in Detroit, Owosso, and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., where they visited Sen. and Mrs. Robert J. Huber and Mr. and Mrs. James K. Ellis.

MODERN WOMEN - YUK, SEZ HE

Dear Helen:

A highly esteemed - until - buddy conned me into a blind date, the last, you may be assured. She was a beaut (spelled with an "s" where the "u" goes). Frizzed up hair stacked half as high as the rest of her. Eye lashes two times false and heavy with gup. Face dabbed with varied hues of rouge, except where it should be - on her lips, which were off-white. Teeth a lovely shade of amber - too many cigarettes, I guess. Skinny arms; long fingernails, painted fire wagon red. A built up false front; straight waist, no hips. Skinny legs, knotty knees, spindle shanks, pigeon-toed; shoes and dress that would suit a six-year-old, but not one five-times-six. My buddy seemed to think she was a "dish." Was I born too soon, or is HE the blind one? - BUGGY

Dear B:

One man's "dish" is another man's disaster... and blind dates often are, for both parties. Next time, choose your own. -H.

Dear Helen:

Tell me, how can a family of five live on less than $40 a month for food and laundry, especially since two of our children are still in diapers?

We were up to our necks in debt, but my husband kept buying new things. We borrowed from a loan company to pay off our debts, then from another loan outfit (at terrible interest) when we got behind again.

On top of this, my husband brings home a new 1967 station wagon. Our car was pretty rickety, but it would have lasted a while.

I try to keep up all the payments, but had to hook my rings and other personal things so we could eat last month.

I'm been tempted to walk out, but I love him. His big fault is he can't resist buying on time.

What can we do? -- SNOWED UNDER

Dear S.U.:

It's time YOU took over management of the finances, in as much as you are the one who must worry about the bills. It will hurt, but equity in that 1967 wagon must be traded for a payment-free runabout which should last until you've cleared up other debts.

If your husband refuses, call the Retail Credit Association (most large cities have one) and ask for an appointment with its Consumer Credit Counsellor. At no cost, he'll advise you on how best to consolidate loans, and - hopefully - will teach your spendthrift husband a little money sense. -- H.

Twin Victory Puts Cards in First Alone

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals got just one twin killing from two double play combinations... but Red Schoendienst couldn't have asked for more.

Manager Schoendienst platooned the second base-shortstop positions in Sunday's doubleheader against Atlanta and neither the Julian Javier-Ed Bressoud team nor the Phil Cagiano-Dal Maxville tandem could turn over a double play.

But all four infielders played key roles in a 3-1, 7-3 sweep that carried the Cardinals back into sole possession of the National League lead.

Javier's fifth inning homer, after a walk to Bressoud, decided the opener and Maxville's seventh inning single delivered the go-ahead run in the nightcap after Cagiano homered in the fifth for a 3-3 tie.

The double victory sent St. Louis one game ahead of the Chicago Cubs, who dropped their doubleheader opener to San Francisco 5-2 before rebounding for a 6-3 victory over the Giants. Pittsburgh split a pair with Houston, bombing the Astros 15-2 after an 8-5 first-game loss; Cincinnati nipped Philadelphia 2-1 and the New York Mets trimmed Los Angeles 4-1 in other games.

In American League play the Chicago White Sox swept Kansas City 8-4 and 1-0; Boston won two from Cleveland 8-5 and 5-1; Detroit divided a twin bill with the New York Yankees, winning 7-3 after a 4-2 setback; California edged Minnesota 2-1 and Baltimore beat Washington 7-3 in 11 innings.

Javier's two-run homer gave left-hander Steve Carlton a 3-0 lead in the opener at St. Louis but he needed relief help from Rob Willis in the eighth after Felipe Alou homered.

Alou led off the nightcap with another homer and right-hander Ed Rakow retired the Cards in order until the fifth while nursing a 3-0 lead. Then Tim McCann drew a walk, Mike Shannon blasted a two-run homer and Cagiano followed with his second homer of the season, tying the score.

Maxville broke the deadlock in the seventh with his hit to left after a single by Shannon and Cagiano's sacrifice bunt. Willis, who hurled two more shutout innings for his second save of the day, doubled across two runs as the Cards wrapped it up with a four-run eighth inning burst.

The Cardinals' abrupt recovery from a 3-6 slump in their previous nine starts kept them a jump ahead of the amazing Cubs, who invade St. Louis tonight for the opener of a pivotal three-game series.

Two-run homers by Ron Santo and Ernie Banks earned the Cubs a split after veteran Mike McCormick checked them on six hits in the opener and Jim Hart crashed a pair of homers for the Giants.

Joe Niekro was the second-game winner with relief help from Bill Hands and Chuck Hartenstein. Hart clubbed his third homer of the day in the fifth after the Cubs had built a 6-0 lead.

McCormick rolled to his 13th victory in 17 decisions, blanking the Cubs on three hits until the ninth, when Randy Hundley's homer ended the shutout bid.

Jim Wynn slammed his 24th and 25th homers, setting a Houston season record and helping Dave Clust beat the Pirates

In the opener at Pittsburgh. In the nightcap, however, Roberto Clemente, Bill Mazeroski and Donn Clendenon all homered as the Pirates backed right-hander Tommie Sisk with an 18-hit assault.

Milt Pappas and Ted Abernathy collaborated on a two-hitter for Cincinnati, while Lee May's run-scoring double and Chico Ruiz' RBI single in the seventh inning erased a 1-0 deficit. Bill White's second inning single—the only Philadelphia hit until the eighth—sent Tony Gonzalez, who had walked, to third and he scored on a double play grounder.

The Mets salvaged the final game of a three-game set with Los Angeles as Bob Hendley fired a four-hitter, Tommy Davis drilled the 100th homer of his career and Bud Harrelson scored the deciding run on Dick Schofield's fifth inning throwing error.

3 More Go in Baseball Hall of Fame

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — The late Branch Rickey, who broke baseball's color line, Lloyd Waner and Red Ruffing were inducted into Baseball's Hall of Fame today in brief, outdoor ceremonies at this picturesque, lakeside village.

Several of the 32 living members of the Hall — including Jackie Robinson — were on hand for the formal induction, which swelled the Hall's membership to 107.

Robinson, who, under Rickey's guidance, became in 1947 the first Negro to play in the major leagues, was one of the principal speakers who honored the long-time executive and administrator.

Rickey died in 1965 at the age of 83. His widow and five daughters also attended.

Rickey, once a catcher for the old St. Louis Browns, was a dominant figure in the major leagues for six decades.

One of his more historic accomplishments was the formation of the farm system, while with the St. Louis Cardinals. He also served as an executive, general manager or club president, with the Brooklyn Dodgers and Pittsburgh Pirates.

Ruffing, who won 273 major league games for the Boston Red Sox, New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox from 1924 to 1947, was elected in a special run-off election with Joe Medwick.

Waner, with his brother Paul, was part of the famous brother combination in the Pittsburgh outfield for almost two decades. Lloyd broke in with the Pirates in 1927 and retired in 1945 with a lifetime average of .331. He also played with Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Boston and Brooklyn.

Sikes Gets $2,360 for PGA Tourney

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — R. H. Sikes of Springfield, Ark., who finished six strokes behind tournament leaders Don January and Don Massengale in the Professional Golfers Association Championship here Sunday, collected $2,360 with a 287 that he compiled with rounds of 72, 71, 71 and 73 over the par 72 Colimline course.

Richard Crawford of El Dorado, Ark., earned $1,600 with his 76-73-73-67—289, and Davis Love, also of El Dorado, took home $389 with a 69-79-76-74—298.

January and Massengale, both of whom finished with 281s,

Red Sox in Their 10th Straight Win

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox realized last week they are for real, but it took the Chicago White Sox another week to get the idea—just in time to save their shaky hold on first place in the American League.

The White Sox, who had lost four of their last five games, swept a doubleheader from Kansas City, 8-4 and 1-0, Sunday and retained their half game lead over Boston, and Eddie Stanky appreciated the effort by his players.

"They knew we had to win both games to keep the lead," said the Chicago manager. "We've been on top since June 11 and I know they will come through."

But the 6,000 people who swarmed the runways at the Boston airport and greeted the Red Sox shouting, "We're No. 1!" Sunday night had other ideas. So do the Red Sox after sweeping Cleveland 8-5 and 5-1.

California, also hot after the White Sox, racked up its sixth straight triumph and 33rd in 45 games by nudging Minnesota 2-1 for the third consecutive day.

In other games, Detroit split a twinbill with the New York Yankees, winning 7-3 after losing 4-2, and Baltimore beat Washington 7-3 in 11 innings.

In the National League, St. Louis captured a doubleheader from Atlanta, 3-1 and 8-3; The Chicago Cubs beat San Francisco 6-3 after losing 5-2; Pittsburgh walloped Houston 15-2 after the Astros won 8-5; Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 2-1, and the New York Mets tripped Los Angeles 4-1.

It was only 10 days ago that surprising Boston rested in fifth place, six games behind Chicago and undoubtedly happy to be that well off.

Then the Red Sox finished a home stand last Monday with their fourth straight victory and Sunday the string rose to 10 straight. Now the sky is the limit.

"When we come into a game now," said reliever Dan Osinski, "we know we're going to win. The only question is by how much."

Boston wasted little time Sunday as Tony Conigliaro cracked a two-run homer in the first inning. Joe Foy followed with a grand slam in the second and Carl Yastrzemski hit his 24th of the season in the fifth.

Reggie Smith singled in a run and then stole home on a double steal for a 2-1 lead in the nightcap and Conigliaro wrapped it up with another two-run homer, his 17th, in the fifth.

Jim Lonborg, 14-3, scattered seven hits in the first game to become the top winner in the majors and Gary Bell stopped the Indians on five safeties in the second game.

Gary Peters, 12-5, and Hoyt Wilhelm kept the White Sox ahead with a combined six-hit shutout in their nightcap as they outdueled Jim Nash.

Nash allowed only three hits, but two of them came in the second inning when Jim King doubled and Ron Hansen singled him home.

Joe Horlen, 12-3, won the first game with help from Bob Locker after the Sox built a 5-0 lead in three innings with the aid of Tommie Agee's two-run homer.

California, another second division pick like Boston at the start of the season, replenished its soaring hopes as Jack Hamilton held the Twins hitless until the seventh inning when Minnie Rojas entered to save the victory.

Jose Cardenal singled in a second inning run, stole second, took third on a wild pitch and then stole home for the needed runs off Dean Chance as the Twins lost their sixth in a row and the third-place Angels fell only two games behind Chicago.

Detroit broke a tie with Minnesota for fourth place and stood only three games back after Jim Landis and Willie Horton belted homers and reliever John Hiller drove in two runs with his first major league hit in the nightcap.

Joe Pepitone slammed four hits, including a two-run homer, to give the Yankees the first game.

Baltimore broke a five-game losing streak on Russ Snyder's two-run single and a two-run sacrifice fly by Brooks Robinson in the 11th inning. Dick Nen of Washington and Boog Powell of the Orioles had exchanged three-run homers earlier.

They were to meet in a head-to-head playoff today to decide who gets the $25,000 first prize and who settles for the $15,000 second prize.

BATTING — Jim Hart, Giants, slammed three home runs for a total of 11 in his last 17 games and 23 for the season as San Francisco split a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs.
PITCHING — Milt Pappas and Ted Abernathy, Reds, held Philadelphia to two hits—both off Pappas in 7 1-3 innings—in a 2-1 victory over the Phils.

DANNY MURTAUGH is back as interim manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He had to trade his executive chair in the Pirate front office for the baseball flannels when the Bucs fired Harry Walker. Danny seems to be enjoying the change.

PGA Playoff Is Between Texas Pair

BY BOB MYERS
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — It was an all-Texas extra act finale today as Don January and Don Massengale squared off in an 18-hole playoff for the rich PGA Golf Championship.

A 12 o'clock noon tee off time was set. Play will be televised via ABC starting at 3 p.m. MDT (5 p.m., EDT).

The 37-year-old January, a fixture on the tournament trail, and Massengale, who learned to play golf on the sand greens of his native Jacksboro, Tex., finished in a tie at 281, seven strokes under par for the regular 72 holes.

The setting was the Columbine Country Club, 7,436 yards with par 36-36—72. Massengale, who finished before January, shot a 66 and January 68.

It was a Sunday jammed with surprises, upsets and a constantly changing picture.

When it was all over, and the two tall Texans emerged to play it off for the $25,000 and $15,000 awaiting the winner and runner-up, U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, with a last round 71, and Dan Sikes, 73, were tied at 282.

Defending champion Al Geiberger, 70, and Julius Boro, 68, were tied at 283, while mired at 287, after a disappointing 74, was Arnold Palmer.

Neither January, born in Plainview, Tex., but now from Dallas, nor Massengale had figured prominently all week.

Sikes went into the final round with a lead of six strokes over Massengale and four over January. Nicklaus and Tommy Aaron were only two shots back of Sikes.

Burdette Is Shipped to Minors

ANAHEIM (AP) — Veteran pitcher Lew Burdette has been shipped to the minor leagues for the first time since 1951 but says: "I hope I can come back in September and help the Angels in the stretch drive."

Burdette, 40, was optioned Sunday by the California Angels to their Pacific Coast League farm club, Seattle.

The right-hander, who had a 1-0 record in 19 games with the Angels this season, will be a player-coach at Seattle, working with young pitchers.

Burdette was the 1957 World Series hero when he pitched three victories and two shutouts for Milwaukee against the New York Yankees.

Hope Girls Lose to Prescott

Last night at City Park, the City Park girls' softball team was defeated by Prescott's softball team by a score of 25-7. It was a game of errors and a lot of runs. Prescott in the first inning jumped off to a 10-0 lead in which Hope girls were notable to overcome. In defeating the Hopettes, Prescott's big 3 continued to have a good night as E. Hayes went 3 for 3, whereas Vera Shaw had 2 doubles and Jess Smallwood continued to hit, while the ace pitcher Norma Young concentrated on striking out the Hopettes one by one. The only bright spot for the Hopettes was the playing of Martha Pugh who made a couple of nice stops and catches. The starting and losing pitcher for the Hopettes was Dorothy Stevenson. She was proceeded to the mound by Linda Mitchell. This team will travel to Prescott Monday night to seek revenge against the powerful Prescott Catlets.

5 Browns' Holdout Continues

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Five Cleveland Browns' players who refused to report to training camp continued their holdout today under a $100-a-day fine.

All were due to report last Saturday at noon.

An attorney for the players told club owner Art Modell that "all five players have stated that if one of them is traded to another club in the National Football League that the remaining four also must be traded."

The veteran players are running back Leroy Kelly, defensive halfback Mike Howell, linebacker Sid Williams, offensive guard John Wooten and offensive tackle John Brown.

Modell said he would not be intimidated "by any persons or group of individuals."

The players are represented by Carl B. Stokes, a state representative and Democratic mayoral candidate in Cleveland.

Modell said he hoped the players will report to Hiram, but "continued absence from training camp could cause eventual suspension from our roster."

Austin Trips Travelers by 5 to 1

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Ralph Garr and Bob Connolly accounted for seven of Austin's 11 hits and scored all but one of its runs Sunday night as the Braves ruined Jim Jackson's professional baseball pitching debut with a 5-1 Texas League victory over the Arkansas Travelers.

After singles by Garr, Connolly, Dick Smith and Darrell Griffith and a walk to Clarence Gaston gave Austin a 3-0 lead in the fourth inning, Jackson, the former Grambling star, left in favor of Sal Campisi.

Austin got a fifth-inning run on back to back singles by Garr and Connolly and added another run in the seventh on the

2,400 Square Off for Pan Am Games

By CHARLES GREEN
WINNIPEG (AP) — Competition opened in 10 sports today as 2,400 athletes from 28 countries began their struggle for gold medals in the fifth Pan-American Games.

Only one gold medal was to be decided today, in free pistol shooting, and that was expected to be a tossup between the United States and host Canada.

Cuba and the United States had their first confrontation of the games tonight in the baseball opener at the nearby city of Carman.

Swimming, one of the glamor sports, opens Tuesday in the $2.7 million Pan-Am pool which has become a Winnipeg showplace. Track and field activities start July 29.

The Games, first Pan-Am meet ever held in Canada, got off to a soggy and cold start at the inauguration ceremonies in Winnipeg Stadium Sunday. Unofficial records showed a half-inch of rain fell during the three-hour ceremony and the temperature dipped to 62 degrees after almost a week of 90 plus readings.

Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, stood bareheaded in the downpour to say: "I bring greetings from the Queen and hereby declare open the fifth Pan-American Games."

The United States, defending women's basketball champion, meets runner-up Brazil tonight in an important first-round game. The U.S. men's team opens against Mexico Tuesday.

Other events on the first day's calendar are shooting, tennis, volleyball, wrestling, baseball, cycling, field hockey, football and gymnastics.

Garr finished with three hits and Connolly four.

Buff Bracy led off with a homer for the Travelers in the ninth, spoiling left-hander Monte Sharp's shutout.

Sharp went 4 1-3 innings before Roy Majtyka swatted the first of four Arkansas hits.

Arkansas Manager Vern Rapp disputed a play at the plate in the fifth inning and protested the game.

Plate umpire Scott Harris injured an ankle on the same play and left the game on a stretcher.

Arkansas defeated Austin 4-2 Saturday night.

In other Texas League action Sunday, sixth-place Dallas-Fort Worth shutout league-leading Amarillo 3-0, while second-place El Paso blasted Albuquerque 9-1 and moved within four games of the Sonics.

Win Gives Hope Auto 4th Place

By RALPH ROULTON
Hope Star Sports Writer

Hope Auto grabbed fourth place over Century Bible Class in their battle during Little League action last Friday night at K Park and Legion Field.
Due to bad field conditions existing at K Park, the first game of the evening was played at Legion Field. The decision was never in doubt, as Hope Auto led all the way in trouncing CBC 11-2. Winning pitcher David Huddleston scattered five hits and struck out seven.
The second game was returned to K Park and Midwest Dairy had no problem in particular in beating Barry's Quick Sak 5-3. Big Chester Pogue, who joined the Midwest team in midseason and thus was not eligible for the All-Star team, socked the longest homer of the year, a three-run blast in the second inning.
The season finale, Lions Club battling Sheriff's Department, was cancelled after two batters when a torrential rain struck the field, and probably will not be replayed.
Hope's All-Star team, battling for a state tournament berth, continues to prepare for their district tournament, which opens on Thursday in Monticello.

Welter Title Stake Is Questioned

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Some say they will, more say they won't and there might not even be a showdown at noon (CDT) as anticipated on whether world's welterweight champion Curtis Cokes puts his title on the line against Gypsy Joe Harris tonight.

Noon is when weigh-in ceremonies are scheduled and promoter Kenneth Hayles of the Greater Dallas Sports Association expects Harris and Cokes to be there although Cokes hasn't said he would be and Harris' manager reported pressure to prevent bringing his boy to Dallas. Hayles said he talked with Willie Reddish, Harris manager, at Philadelphia Sunday night and Reddish said one caller had even impersonated Hayles and told him not to come. "But I told Reddish he had a contract with me to have Harris here and he promised he would arrive at 11:10 a.m.," said Hayles.

If Cokes is there, there are indications he will first demand payment of the balance due him on the May 19 fight with Francois Pavilla (about $20,000) and his $35,000 guarantee on the fight with Harris.

Hayles naturally won't pay it since he contends he already has overpaid Cokes under a contract that says $35,000 or 40 per cent and the Pavilla fight took in only about $23,000. Hayles claims to have paid Cokes $15,000. Forty per cent would be $9,200.

There also is the question of weight. Reddish says his fighter was seven pounds over the 149-pound limit. Whether Cokes would have trouble making it isn't known since he has kept himself away from everybody since Friday.

But if the two should show and be weighed and one or both are over the limit, it apparently would be up to Cokes whether he wanted to fight a non-title affair.

The Texas Boxing Commission, although its ruling that first knocked out the fight for alleged irregularities and non-payment to Cokes for the Pavilla fight was overturned by a district court, will be conducting things and it has no rule in its books on what happens in such a case.

If the fight goes on, it will be at 9 p.m. and will be televised by TV Sports Inc.

Norwegian Kicker in Pro Debut

KANSAS CITY (AP) — No rookie kicker in pro football history has come along with more impressive credentials than Jan Stenerud, Kansas City's high-priced Norwegian soccer kicker, who makes his debut tonight against Denver.

All Stenerud has to do this season to live up to his rave notices is score 12 points a game, boot 55-yard field goals every other week and kick off over the end zone repeatedly.

In short, he's expected to kick the Chiefs to another American Football League championship.

His credentials include 59 and 52-yard field goals at Montana State, a 62-yarder in a spring exhibition, and an NCAA record of 82 points by kicking last season. The AFL record is 55 yards. The Chiefs paid a steep price for his contract, outbidding the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League. A San Francisco 49ers scout noted, "Stenerud is 10-12 yards better than anyone in the AFL."

Top Race Today at Hollywood

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The meeting of Assagal, Pretense and Narkos in the $109,500 Sunset Handicap at Hollywood Park today opens another eventful week in thoroughbred horse racing.

In the wake of Buckpasser's unexpected eight-length defeat by Handsome Boy in the $106,700 Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct last Saturday, it appears anything may happen in the Sunset that climaxes the closing day of the Hollywood meeting.

The Sunset, at 1 1/2 miles over grass, is the first of three 100-grander on the week's national program. On Saturday there is the $100,000 Delaware Handicap at Delaware Park for fillies and mares and the $100,000 Sorority Stakes for 2-year-old fillies at Monmouth Park.

Rounding out the weekend program is the $50,000 Tidal Handicap at Aqueduct, the $50,000 Citation Handicap at Arlington Park, the $15,000 Oceanside Handicap at Del Mar and a $15,000 handicap at Rockingham Park.

The Sunset marks the first start for Assagal, the 1966 U.S. grass course champion, since his fourth place finish in the $200,000 Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud in France earlier this month.

Off his recent American grass record of 1:39 4/5 for 1 1/16 miles, Pretense has been assigned top weight of 129 pounds for the Sunset to 126 for Assagal and 121 for Narkos.

With Larry Adams, who didn't ride him in France, scheduled to be back in the saddle, Assagal is rated the horse to beat.

Petty Wins 500 Stock at Bristol

BRISTOL, Tenn. (AP) — The Volunteer 500 stock car race proved a record-breaker for Richard Petty in almost every respect.

Not only did the Randleman, N.C., driver extend to 16 his record number of victories in one season for the NSACAR Grand National circuit by winning Sunday's 250-mile grind, but he:

— Finished in front for the first time ever at the half-mile Bristol International Speedway, the only major track on the circuit where he previously had failed to win a race.

— Broke the track record in his 1967 Plymouth with an average speed of 78.705 miles per hour. The old mark of 78.04 m.p.h. was set by Fred Lorenzen in the Volunteer 500 three years ago.

Petty won by approximately half a lap over Dick Hutcherson of Camden, S.C., with whom he had battled for the lead after David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., blew an engine on the 116th lap. Hutcherson and Pearson drove 1967 Fords and were the only leaders besides Petty during the race.

Pennant Fever 'Head Start' at Washington Lincoln High Is Prevalent in Boston

By DAVID NYHAN
BOSTON (AP) — If pennant fever is a disease, then Boston should be quarantined.

The epidemic broke out Sunday night when a boisterous crowd of 6,000 fans surged through Logan International Airport to welcome their diamond heroes home from a doubleheader sweep of the Cleveland Indians, 8-5 and 5-1.

The surging Red Sox, winners of 10 straight and 12 out of their last 13, are half-game behind the Chicago White Sox, who held on to first place in the American League by winning a doubleheader at Kansas City, 8-4 and 1-0.

The fans spilled out onto a flight ramp, and worried airport officials directed the club's United Airlines jet charter plane to land on the other side of the field.

"I've never seen anything like this," said slugger Carl Yastrzemski. "We're going to win it all."

The crowd had pushed through state police barricades and was spread over a half-mile of airplane ramps. Airport vehicles flashed lights and honked horns to clear the crowd from the path of the taxiing aircraft.

After the team was cheered, cuffed and shoved through a path from a bus to an office in the United freight terminal, Manager Dick Williams puffed, "We knew there'd be a crowd, but nothing like this."

The confident Williams added, "This sure will be a tremendous inspiration for the ball club."

The size of the turnout on the hot, humid and windless night apparently was due in part to reports during the game by radio play-by-play announcer Ken Coleman, who advised when the team's flight would arrive and suggested that fans be on hand to welcome them.

Signs made of cardboard, bed-sheets and pillowcases fluttered throughout the morass of cheering fans, proclaiming: "Springfield Welcomes The Red Sox."

And, that old favorite, "We're Number One."

Ashe Wins Title in Clay Tennis

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Top-ranking Arthur Ashe Jr., supposedly a pigeon on clay, has won the National Clay Court Tennis Tournament, shooting down a weary Marty Riessen, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 7-5.

Unerring Nancy Richey won the women's singles for an unprecedented fifth straight time as she turned back an erratic Rosemary Casals 6-2, 6-3.

The tournament victory—the first for Ashe on clay since he deserted juniors' ranks—left the Davis Cupper unconvinced that

Sandburg, Poet, Dies at Age 89

FLAT ROCK, N.C. (AP) — Carl Sandburg, who rose through the ranks of workingmen to achieve a delicate and humane touch in the literary world, is dead at age 89, but remembered for a wide assortment of successes.

His cremation will follow a funeral service today at St. John's in the Wilderness Episcopal Church, near Connemara, the goat farm where the old poet, biographer and author died Saturday.

Sandburg, a familiar figure in the Blue Ridge Mountains since moving here more than two decades ago, had been in ill health two years. At his bedside at the end was his wife since 1908, Lillian Paula Sandburg.

Sandburg was particularly noted for his Lincoln biography. Both men were born poor, obtained haphazard educations and struggled hard to make a living. Both understood and loved the common people.

The Lincoln biography, a painstaking work of 15 years, won him his first Pulitzer Prize. Sandburg, a picturesque figure of broad mouth and full head of straight, snow-white hair, won his second Pulitzer Prize in 1951 for his "Complete Poems."

He was born Jan. 6, 1878, in Galesburg, Ill., the son of Swedish emigrants. The blacksmith-railroad worker father was poor, and Carl dropped out of school at 13 to work. He drove a milk wagon, harvested ice, swept out a barber shop, labored in pottery and tin shops.

When the Spanish-American

Sandburg, Poet, Dies at Age 89

War broke out he enlisted in the Illinois Infantry and served eight months in Puerto Rico. After the war he attended Galesburg's Lombard College, then pursued all sorts of jobs including an organizer for the Social Democratic party, secretary to Milwaukee's mayor, and newspaperman. The Chicago Daily News hired him as a writer after he had served as foreign correspondent for a feature syndicate.

Then his literary career began shaping. He collected songs of mountain people, cowboys and railroad gangs. With his guitar he gave poetry reading-folk singing concerts across this country.

The Sandburgs lived for years in Harbert, Mich., but in 1945 left the Lake Michigan winters and moved to Flat Rock, a village of old homes amid towering trees along a plateau on the crest of the Blue Ridge.

Sandburg, on Feb. 12, 1959—the 150th anniversary of Lincoln's birth—addressed a joint session of Congress.

Survivors, in addition to the widow, are three daughters: Mrs. Barney Crile, wife of a Cleveland, Ohio, surgeon, and Margaret and Janet Sandburg, who live at their parents' home. The Rev. George C. B. Tolleson, pastor of the Unitarian Church in Charleston, S.C., will conduct the funeral service.

In background—Mrs. Noelle James and aides, Mrs. Exie B. Stuart and Miss Janice Bingham.

Air Force Captures Skeet Shoot

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — First and second place in the Mid South Open Skeet Tournament went to members of the U.S. Air Force Skeet team here Sunday.

Airman 3-C Jim Bellows shattered 394 of a possible 400 clay pigeons in 20-gauge, 28-gauge, 12-gauge and 410 competition to take first place, and Airman 1-Jim Prall shot down 393. Both are from Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

The junior championship went to Gus Blass III of Little Rock, who fired a 391.

Other winners, by divisions, were:

Smoking Hopes

are hinging on the new filter developed by Robert Strickman, New Jersey inventor. Above drawing illustrates passage of smoke through active polymeric substances, followed the usual cellulose filter. The result, says Strickman, with the aid of the chart behind him, is a drastic reduction of tars inhaled from various brands of cigarettes.

Jim: "Here is one of those cinch hands that actually presents plenty of problems in both bidding and play."

Oswald: "The problems start with North's first rebid. Must say that I think his three-heart cue bid is the perfect answer to the problem."

Jim: "South might well have jumped to six diamonds when North bid four but South felt that he only held 10 high card points and anyway South wanted to pass the buck to North. North decided to bid the slam himself and, as anyone can see, the play was easy provided that South made the right decisions in trumps and spades."

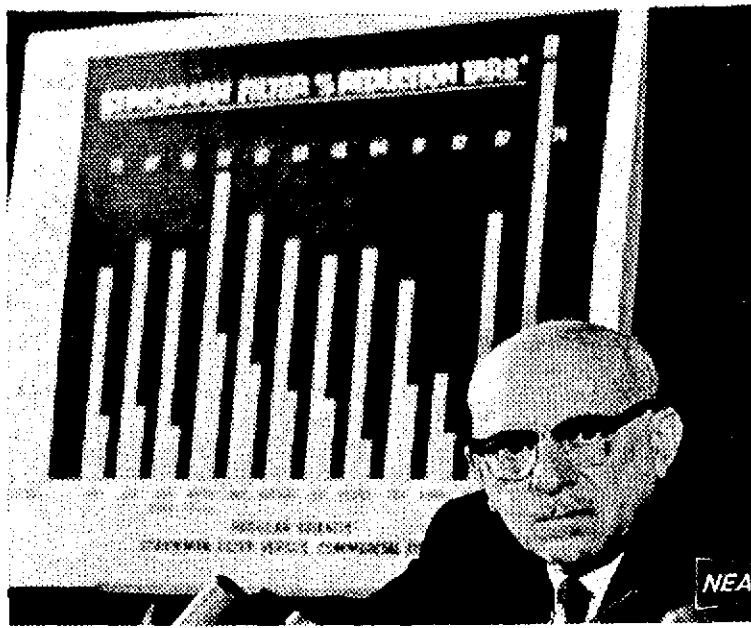

Oswald: "If I were playing the hand I would win the ace of clubs and do a little worrying before playing to trick two. Then I would lay down my ace of trumps on the theory that East had made a vulnerable overall at the two level without much in high cards and, therefore, if anyone were going to be void of a suit it would be East."

Jim: "East would show out and you would be happy that you had played diamonds that way. I suppose you would pull West's last two trumps before doing anything else."

Oswald: "No reason not to. The rest of my plan of campaign would be to develop three spade tricks in dummy. I would see that a 4-3 spade break would insure that and would want to guard against a 5-2 or 6-1 break if I could. It would appear that if anyone were going to be long in spades it would be East. I would see that five spades to the queen-ten would be too much for me to handle but that I could work things out otherwise."

Jim: "I'll run out the rest of the play. Spade to the ace; ruff a spade; heart to the ace; king of spades for one club discard. This would leave the queen as the only outstanding spade, so you would ruff another spade; ruff your last heart; discard another club on the last spade and concede a club trick."

Q—The bidding has been: West North East South
Pass 1 Pass
You, South, hold:
AKQ2 VK94 AAK QKJ976
What do you do now?
A—Bid two no-trump. Unless your partner merely bids three no-trump you will raise spades later on.

THE WELL CHILD

Nursing Child Not Harmed If Mother Takes 'Pill'

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A woman writes that she plans to nurse her baby but would also like to take birth control pills. She wants to know whether it is safe to take them while nursing the baby. These hormones taken by a mother would not harm the baby. The chief drugs to be avoided by a nursing mother are atropine or belladonna, bromides, senna, castor oil, and ergot.

Q—A neighbor claims that baked beans are high in protein and are better for children than the meat I feed my kids. What do you think?

A—Dried beans of all kinds are twice as rich in protein as cereals. They are also rich in the vitamin, thiamine. Although they are not as rich in protein as meat they may serve as a meat substitute provided the diet is well-balanced.

Q—What are the dangers in giving a child too much candy?

A—In the diet of a child, or an adult for that matter, candy, especially if eaten between meals, curbs the appetite and often results in taking less of the essential nutrients than is needed. It also favors decay of the teeth. When candy is given it should be a small amount at the end of a meal followed by brushing the teeth.

Q—After reading your recent article on croup I am worried about my 2 1/2-year-old son. He gets croupy spells in the winter and, when I call the pediatrician, he won't come to see my son unless he has a fever. He just says to give him some cough syrup. What do you think?

A—Most attacks of croup are mild. The danger sign to watch for in the severe attacks is not so much fever as increasing difficulty in inhaling accompanied by a bluish tinge in the lips.

Q—Can an infant become emotionally disturbed if he is often frightened? Our son-in-law loves his six-week-old son, his first child, dearly but he likes to shake the crib. This makes the baby cry hysterically. Sometimes he throws the baby up in the air and catches him or he may shout at him and whistle to get him to turn his head or tickle the bottom of his feet. Won't this make the baby fearful?

LEGAL NOTICE

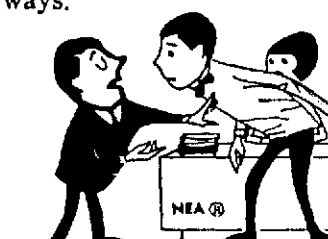

In The Chancery Court of Hempstead County, Arkansas, Roy Chance, Plaintiff, vs. June Chance, Defendant, No. 8541

WARNING ORDER
The Defendant, June Chance, is hereby warned to appear in this Court within thirty (30) days hereafter to answer the intervention of Janie Brooks and Ruth Brooks and to show cause why the temporary order as to custody of the minor children therein should not be made permanent. Witness My Hand and seal as Clerk of this Court on the 17th day of July, 1967.

Jim Cole
Clerk

SHORT RIBS

come nervous?
A—For a loving father the behavior you describe is thoughtless and irresponsible. At six weeks a baby is not ready for such treatment and it is not likely to result in the love for the baby being reciprocated. A baby is not a hound dog to be whistled at. When the baby is old enough to crawl don't be surprised if he crawls under the bed when he hears his father coming—unless the father changes his ways.

The person who constantly corrects others is a bore.

QUICK QUIZ BLONDIE

Q—Do any birds have teeth?
A—In no living bird are teeth present. Substituting for teeth is a powerful gizzard which grinds food when necessary. The gizzard is located near the bird's center of gravity.

Q—What qualities give to mahogany its high value?
A—The rich, reddish brown wood is fine-grained and capable of taking a high polish. For this reason, it is one of the most highly prized materials used in cabinet work.

Station Robbed of Top Records

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Disc jockeys at Sarasota radio station WKXY were wondering Sunday if the records they play might be too popular.
Before dawn Sunday, burglars entered the station. They ignored thousands of records in the library, but took 150 discs that are on the station's current play list.

The other four Scouts will spend three days in training at Leonard Scout Reservation near Ft. Worth before leaving for the Jamboree site.
All of the Scouts will spend a day at Pike's Peak, another day at the Air Force Academy and a day at Yellowstone National Park en route to the Jamboree.
The 5,000 Scouts representing the United States at this first World Jamboree to be held in the United States were selected on the basis of leadership ability and personality. All are Eagle Scouts.
Top government officials from several countries will visit with the Scouts as well as a delegation of astronauts led by Scott Carpenter, an Eagle Scout.
The Jamboree will be held on the 60th Anniversary of the first Boy Scout Camp held on Brownsea Island off the English Coast by Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scout movement.
The theme of the Jamboree is "For Friendship" and Scouts

The U.S. Command said 22
Americans were killed and 39

the American losses occurred in a heavy enemy mortar and rocket barrage at the start of the four-hour engagement in the steaming jungle.
As an infantry patrol came into heavy initial contact, 4th Division artillerymen began a rain of 3,320 shells on the North

U.S. headquarters reported four B-52 raids in South Vietnam today including two in the dense jungles of the A Shau Valley.
The valley is a main Red base patrol in the smoke shrouded streets.

Romney said experience had shown that the second night of racial rioting is "usually worse than the first."
"Without help, the situation could become uncontrollable," he told newsmen.
The latest deaths were that of a Negro looter, shot down in a supermarket by a Negro guard, and that of an elderly Negro found burned to death in an alley on the city's East Side.
The latter was the first death reported on the East Side, almost a dozen miles from where the rioting, looting and firebombing erupted early Sunday and took its heaviest toll in property damage and injuries.
Of the five dead only two were Negroes, the looter shot today and the East Side fire death.
The discovery of the body dramatically underlined the unique quality of Detroit's racial explosion — that it knows no bounds and is showering sparks of unrest over vast and not necessarily attached areas.
Most recent riots, like those Newark, Harlem, Rochester, N.Y., and the Watts section of Los Angeles were confined to Negro ghetto areas.
There are no such places in Detroit although there are predominantly Negro sections.
However, few of these are slums, including areas of the fiercest rioting.

his six-room duplex apartment
after an explosion.
Hot Springs County Sheriff Orville Allen said Shepherd and his wife, Kathleen, 24, had been applying a liquid sealer to a bedroom floor at the time of the accident. He said fumes from the sealer apparently ignited.
Mrs. Shepherd also was burned in the explosion, but she was released from a Hot

Nasser Arab Call Is a Compromise

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser's new budget being published today calls for sacrifices to enable war-crippled Egypt to struggle on against Israel, but Nasser says the door is still open for a political settlement.

In a broadcast speech Sunday night, Nasser said he had "no objection to conferring with the Americans" on restoring peace to the Middle East and had instructed Egypt's United Nations delegation "to meet with the Americans if feasible."

Nasser's speech, his first in six weeks, was considered surprisingly restrained in tone although there were plentiful references to the United States.
The Egyptian leader again blamed it for the Israeli victory in the June 5-10 war but revised his charges.

Nasser dropped his claim during the war that U. S. planes attacked the Arabs. Instead, he said President Johnson engaged in deceptive diplomatic maneuvers which masked the Israeli attack and this enabled the Israelis to get the decisive jump on the Arabs.

Observers believed the mild-ness reflected a willingness to cooperate with any country that would help push the Israelis out of occupied Arab territory.

While he did not rule out a negotiated peace, Nasser called for Arab solidarity. He said they have the choice of "unconditional submission or to struggle on and the masses choose to struggle."

If it comes to war, he said,
"we are no less determined than the people of Vietnam," but admitted the struggle would be long and very hard.

To strengthen Egypt for this eventuality, Nasser said, "We shall ask for fresh sacrifices."
Acknowledging that the Arabs' defeat was "bigger than expected," he said his new austerity budget would "help us withstand economic pressures."

In New York, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said he feared recent Soviet military aid to the vanquished Arabs would lead to a break in the shaky cease-fire.

Charlie Chaplin
Returns as a Comedy Director

When the motion picture "A Countess From Hong Kong" had its premier in London the British critics ridiculed it as poor comedy stuff. It probably struck the rest of the world as a most inopportune gesture toward a fellow Briton, for this high-society farce marked the return to the screen of Charlie Chaplin as a director rather than actor.

I wondered at the time the report was printed whether British film critics were any better in their judgments than their half-witted New York cousins who applauded what unquestionably is the worst picture in filmdom's history, the Burton-Taylor production of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

I had the answer Sunday night at the Sanger theater when I saw "A Countess From Hong Kong", and you can check on me by seeing it yourself this Monday night.

The answer is that the British critics are no better than our own. The only real object of a printed review is to tell the public whether an entertainment is good or bad, and to what degree. But there's no more truth in British critics' reports than there is in our own.

"A Countess From Hong Kong" is one of the best society farces in years and adds new luster to Charlie Chaplin's name, establishing him in his old age as a top-level director, just as he was the world's best comedian in his youth.

Sunday night's crowd was large, and enthusiastic to the end.

Marlon Brando and Sophia Loren are excellently cast. But the surprises are reserved for a couple of supporting players. First there is Charlie's brother Sydney in the role of Brando's companion Harvey. And then there is an astonishing bit part, the role of a society girl who dances with Brando — the girl being none other than Charlie's daughter Geraldine.

She has a sprightliness and appeal that remind you her father is Charlie Chaplin and her mother the daughter of world-famous playwright Eugene O'Neill.

"A Countess From Hong Kong" is a tensely directed, beautifully decorated story of comedy aboard a Pacific ocean liner — hardly a church social film, but absolutely tops in the world of the theater.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson ordered federal troops to the Detroit area today and promised every needed assistance in handling the riot which has ravaged the city.

Johnson also drafted Cyrus R. Vance, former deputy secretary of defense, to fly to Detroit for conference to determine exactly what conditions are and what federal help is needed.

The troops are being flown to Selfridge Air Force Base, about 30 miles from Detroit. It will be up to Johnson to issue additional orders if they are actually to be sent into Detroit.

Parolee Is Re-Jailed by Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Ronald E. Smith, 33, a parolee convicted from Marietta, Ga., who is wanted by Arkansas authorities, returns to prison this week for an undetermined length of time.

Smith was paroled Monday after serving four months of a five-year term for burglary. The Rev. W. H. Swearingen, chairman of the state Pardon-Parole Board, declared Smith delinquent Friday "for the public good."

Pulaski County Pros. Atty. Richard Adkisson of Little Rock said Saturday that a warrant had been sent to Alabama authorities for Smith's arrest. Adkisson said Arkansas could not touch Smith as long as he is in prison, but that if his parole were upheld, he would have Smith extradited.

Adkisson wants to try Smith for a 1962 burglary of a Little Rock department store.

N. Vietnam Troops Shot Inside Zone

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese army patrolling the southern half of the demilitarized zone killed 25 North Vietnamese regulars Sunday about a mile inside the once-neutral area, a South Vietnamese spokesman said today.

Elsewhere, U.S. 4th Division infantry with massive artillery support wiped out a North Vietnamese company in the central highlands near Pleiku, killing 124 of an estimated 150 enemy soldiers.

American pilots attacking North Vietnam struck north of Hanoi at the vital rail links with Red China. They reported no meetings with enemy MIGs and no losses to ground fire.

U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops first invaded the demilitarized zone in mid-May for a massive sweep of positions the Communists had in the southern half of the zone. After a running series of battles, the Americans and South Vietnamese withdrew.

Since then, American troops have been back only once, but the South Vietnamese have made several patrols in and out of the zone, their headquarters

Presbyterian Pastor Is Re-Elected

Dr. L.T. Lawrence, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Hope, has been re-elected pastor of the local church for another year.

The action came at a congregational meeting Sunday morning, July 23. Rev. Sam Lain, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Magnolia, acted as moderator and guest speaker for the occasion, having exchanged pulpits for the day with Dr. Lawrence.

Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence moved with their family from Osceola several years ago. In 1952 through 1954 Dr. Lawrence guided the local Presbyterians through a building program which resulted in the construction of a new manse, and later a new church and Sunday School building on South Main Street. The new and modern buildings were paid for in less than ten years, and are now debt free.

In addition to serving his church, Dr. Lawrence has been an active member of the Hope Rotary Club and has given many hours of his time to civic and community affairs.

What Makes Modern Executive Tired? It's Not Exercise

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

What makes the tired U.S. businessman so tired? Paradoxically, it is often the tensions that come from lack of exercise. Only 12 per cent of corporation executives exercise daily, a survey found, and 52 per cent don't take regular exercise at all.

Scientists now believe it is possible to build underwater passenger vehicles that will speed through the sea at up to 225 miles an hour. The big drag water is 800 times as dense as the atmosphere is at sea level.

Longer life expectancy won't make us a nation of old people. Projected U.S. census figures indicate that, if the American population reaches 432 million by the year 2003, half will be under 25 years of age, only 7 per cent over 65.

People are not only growing bigger today, they are also growing up more quickly. A recent study of English youths found they reached maximum height at 21 years, whereas in the 1880s it took 26 years.

Faubus Mansion Has Turned Into Major Tourist Attraction

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer
HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

The Faubus Mansion was formally opened as a tourist attraction this weekend, and former Gov. Orval E. Faubus did a better business than he expected at $1.25 a head.

The house thus became another indelible mark that Faubus has left on Huntsville, which nestles in the valley of War Eagle Creek west of the Faubus property.

Huntsville already boasted a Faubus Building, a Faubus Motel and signs on each incoming highway proclaiming the town of 1,050 to be the hometown of Governor Faubus.

About 200 persons had signed the guest book at the close of business Saturday, and Faubus said he had only expected about 300 persons through the weekend.

He greeted guests in a red sport shirt and he gave many visitors a personal escort, He even walked with one family along the Farkleberry Trail.

The trail is an ancient path along the rim of a cliff which dominates the western face of Governor's Hill. It was beaten out by picnickers before the turn of the century when the hill was a playground for Huntsville's youth.

Faubus named it the Farkleberry Trail because cartoonists identified him with the farkleberry tree after it was discovered during one of his administrations that Faubus had the largest known specimen of the tree.

Faubus, who prides himself on his woodmanship, can name every tree and bush along the

Low Level Flights Due in This Area

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Military aircraft will begin more than 500 low altitude flights over parts of Arkansas and Oklahoma Tuesday to test reconnaissance and radar evasion techniques.

Spokesmen said most flights will be at less than 1,000 feet altitude at speeds ranging from 60 to 350 miles per hour. Because the aircraft will not fly faster than sound, no sonic boom will result.

K.C. - Memphis Toll Road to Be Studied

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., said Saturday that William M. McCandless, federal co-chairman of the Ozarks Regional Commission, has assured him a toll road between Kansas City and Memphis would be studied by the commission.

Gathings has asked the group to study the proposed Ozark Express Route, which would link Kansas City to Memphis through seven Arkansas counties.

McCandless told Gathings the commission was "well aware of the need for such a route," McCandless said he was sure the route "will be offered as part of the ultimate plan by the highway departments of Arkansas and Missouri."

Gathings said McCandless told him the federal contractor engaged to make a study of the Ozark region highway needs would study the route, Five Caddo Council Eagle Scouts inspect some of their equipment before departing for the World Jamboree to be held in Idaho. They are from left to right: Robbie Meadows of Texarkana, Jackie Bell of DeQueen, Clay Lehman of Hope, Jim Morriss of Nash, and John Spraggins of Hope.

Five Eagle Scouts from Caddo Area Council will join 15,000 other Boy Scouts from 54 countries for the fifth World Jamboree at Farragott State Park in Idaho from August 1st to 9th.

The Scouts are: Robert D. Meadows, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Meadows of Texarkana; James C. Morriss, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Morriss, Jr. of Nash; Jack D. Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bell of DeQueen; Clay Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lehman, Jr.; and James R. Spraggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.A. Spraggins, both of Hope.

Young Morriss will serve as a Host Scout and will depart by special bus Saturday with 34 other Scouts representing the councils from Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. Each of these Scouts will be assigned to a foreign delegate.

Cancer Fight Memorial Fund Set Up

In response to numerous requests from families and individuals, the American Cancer Society has inaugurated a memorial fund to which families and friends of cancer victims may contribute, according to Mrs. Norman Smith, Hempstead County Cancer Crusade Chairman.

Contributions made in memory of a friend or a member of the family are acknowledged by the American Cancer Society, and a dignified memorial card is sent to the family stating that a memorial has been received and giving the name of the donor.

Memorial funds are used to support the Society's three-fold attack on cancer through research, education and service. These contributions may be made in any amount.

Although the major source of funds for this program comes from the Society's annual campaign, memorial funds received throughout the year are becoming of increasing importance to the Society as more individuals and families become aware that they can contribute in the name of a loved one to the ultimate victory over this dread disease.

Memorial funds should be sent to the American Cancer Society, Mrs. Olin Purcell, 1120 West 7th street, Hope, Ark.

Federal Troops Are Called for to Put Down Detroit Riots

Detroit Riot

Toll: 3 Dead, Millions Loss

Negro Leader Shot by Negro Officer

2nd Request for Troops Will Stand

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Racial violence, which brought death, destruction and terror to Detroit in a day and night of wild riots, abated at daybreak today as mobs evaporated, but the littered streets remained occupied by National Guardsmen.

Mayor Jerome Cavanagh toured the city's ravaged West Side and said the rioting had been contained.

"But the looting and arson continues, and I am concerned about what seems to be a carnival atmosphere," he said.

The mayor was joined in the tour by Michigan Gov. George Romney. Fires still raged out of control in widely separated areas, and there was sporadic sniper fire as they rode in an armored personnel carrier escorted by police and the National Guard. However, none of the gunfire appeared directed at their cavalcade.

Cavanagh and Romney said they expected another 1,000 Guardsmen to join the 7,000 already in the city. Also standing by were 1,000 city, suburban and state police.

Earlier, Romney had appealed for federal troops, then said he was changing his mind "because of the situation elsewhere in the country."

He referred to outbreaks of violence over the weekend in New York's Spanish Harlem, Rochester, N.Y., Birmingham, Ala., and New Britain, Conn.

Detroit, the nation's fifth largest city, "looked like it had been bombed," Romney said, after thousands of Negroes went wild, fighting with police, looting and causing millions of dollars in property damage.

Guardsmen used tanks to fight the mobs, and the international border at Detroit between the Hope Little League All Star team will practice at 7 p.m. Monday and Tuesday nights at K-Park. The team will go to Monticello Thursday to play in the District Tournament. Monticello and McGhee play Wednesday night and the Hope boys will play the winner in the second game Thursday night, Hamburg and Crosssett.

Robert H. Cox, Commander of Leslie Huddleston Post No. 12 of the American Legion, announced today the appointment of the Honorable Royce Weisenberger as Chairman of the Oratorical Contest Committee. Appointed on this committee with Judge Weisenberger are Teddy Jones and Jack Beatty. Commander Cox stated that he is hopeful that there will be much interest and participation on the part of the young people of our community during the ensuing year.

Whitfield Masonic Lodge No. 239 will confer a Fellowcraft 7, and that he was arrested about 3:30 a.m. Saturday. Officers said Harris was being held for military authorities.

Police said Harris was lowered outside his cell Saturday while eating his lunch. He reportedly jumped up and out the front door.

The shooting raised the toll of dead to four and came as Gov. George Romney asked President Johnson and the U.S. attorney general in telegrams to dispatch federal troops to the city.

Property damage soared over a $100 million.

Fires set Sunday raged unchecked in many sections as rioting coursed crazily through an ill-defined area covering more than one-sixth of this city, the nation's fifth largest.

There was no immediate response from federal officials to Romney's plea for at least 5,000 troops.

An aide declined to comment on a report that Romney must first declare a state of insurrection.

However, Att. Gen. Ramsey Clark's car showed up at the White House at midmorning, prompting speculation that some sort of federal action might soon be forthcoming. Clark is known to have received regular reports on the situation in Detroit during the night.

The governor retired to his home in suburban Bloomfield Hills for a nap, after touring the city with Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and wiring his plea for help to President Johnson and the attorney general.

Elements of the 5th Army in Chicago and the 101st Airborne at Ft. Campbell, Ky., reportedly were standing by to move in to Detroit.

They would join more than 7,000 state police, city police and National Guardsmen already on Community Action Told to Rotary

What is Community Action? It is a community in action, the Hope Rotary Club was told at its weekly luncheon meeting in the Town and Country last Friday. The speaker was Mike Carozza, Director of the Southwest Arkansas Area Development Council in Texarkana.

After explaining the basis for the Community Action program, the speaker told how it affects the individual and stressed the Rotary "Service Above Self". Finally, he said it is more important to get help to a person than for him, as it is better to let a person help himself whenever possible.

In the program arranged by Bob Willhite, council secretary, the speaker was introduced to the club by another guest, Arthur Strech, president of the Area Development Council. Hope Rotary Vice-President Harold Eklav presided over the club meeting in the absence of the president.

Rotarian L. T. Lawrence formally welcomed C.R. "Dick" Moore as a new member of the local club. Camden Rotary Club President Alex Geddie was a visiting Rotarian, and Dale Franks of Hope was a guest.

Fugitive Is Recaptured

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Virgil Dale Harris, 20, of Detroit, Mich., who escaped from the city jail here Saturday, was recaptured before noon Sunday.

Authorities said Harris was listed as absent without leave from Ft. Knox, Ky., since July 7, and that he was arrested about 3:30 a.m. Saturday. Officers said Harris was being held for military authorities.

Police said Harris was lowered outside his cell Saturday while eating his lunch. He reportedly jumped up and out the front door.
